About the University

The Dravidian University was established by the Government of Andhra Pradesh through a Legislature Act (No.17 of 1997) at Kuppam, a Tri-Lingual junction in the southern part of Andhra Pradesh with the initial support extended by the government of Tamil Nadu, Karnataka and Kerala for an integrated development of Dravidian languages, Literatures thus paving way for cultural and emotional integration of all the regions that carry forward the ancient historical torch of the nation. The foremost objective of the University is to develop integration among the Dravidian languages and realize the true spirit of national integration.

About CIIL & NTS-I

CIIL was established on 17th July 1969, to co-ordinate the development of Indian Languages, to bring about the essential unity of Indian languages through scientific studies, promote interdisciplinary research, contribute to mutual enrichment of languages, and thus contribute towards emotional integration of people of India.

National Testing Service-India, of Central Institute of Indian Languages, Mysore established on 1st July, 2006 is an initiative of the MHRD, Govt. of India to cater to the evaluation requirements of the country. It is engaged in developing methods, materials and man power in the field of educational testing and evaluation. To start with, NTS-I focuses on Hindi, Tamil and Urdu. The three functional units of the NTS-I viz., R&D, S&D, C&T along with the RFUs spread across the country work towards achieving its objectives of developing materials, methods and manpower in the area of testing & evaluation and there by establishing local, regional and national norms for ensuring quality education.

About the Seminar
